GIRL SLAIN IS SHOWN BY LAST AUTOPSY

Police Take Up New Clues as Doctors Agree Alice Crispell Met Violent Death.

ARREST WOODCHOPPER.

Prisoner Said to Have Admitted He Was at Scene of Crime—Hunt for Four Men.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 14.—Alice Crispell came to her death by violence, it is now the belief, according to the statements made by the physicians when they completed the second autopsy on the girl's body this afternoon. Dr. F. J. Higgins, who performed the first autopsy, and who was present at the second, in answer to a question, said:

"I am still of the opinion I held after the first autopsy." He had previously said that the girl was murdered. Water was found in the lungs of the girl. Dr. T. J. Lehane of New York, Dr. W. Meeker of Philadelphia, and Dr. S. M. Wolfe, who performed the post mortem, refused to make a public statement until they had their report to the District-Attorney, but from reliable authority it is said they all agree that Miss Crispell came to her death by violence.

FATHER OF SLAIN GIRL MAKES SCENE AT AUTOPSY.

The stomach, intestines and other vital organs of the girl have been removed and will be taken to New York, where Dr. Lehane will make an analysis of the contents. Marks were found on the body and carefully examined. District-Attorney Bigelow announced this afternoon that the second autopsy showed that Miss Crispell's death was due to drowning, and that there was no proof of any condition which might constitute a motive for suicide. The District-Attorney said he would continue to run down every clue in the case, and in concluding his statement remarked: "The fate of Prisoner Herbert Johns will depend upon the weight given the testimony by the Court at the habeas corpus hearing. We will not of our own initiative ask for the discharge, but will place that responsibility where it belongs."

While the doctors were performing the second autopsy this afternoon William Crispell, the father of the girl, went to the morgue and declared that he intended to remain on the scene to see that the corpse of his daughter was taken back to its resting place in Lehigh Cemetery and properly interred. He said that he had never been consulted concerning a second autopsy and that the county officials seemed to think he was heartless and bore no love for his daughter. County Detective McElvey is on his way from Springville, Pennsylvania, who it is alleged was seen on a pile of logs near the scene of the tragedy on the fatal night. The detective says that Oliver has admitted that he was the mysterious man on the woodpile. Out-

ELECTRIC SIGN FALLS, BREAKING WOMAN'S SKULL.

Injures Six Others When It Crashes Down on Boardwalk at Atlantic City.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 14.—Mrs. Walter Ostrander, wife of a wealthy real estate operator of Kingston, N. Y., sustained probably fatal injuries here this afternoon and a half-dozen others were painfully hurt when a huge electric sign was torn from the roof of a building at St. James place and the boardwalk and crashed down upon the wooden pier. Mrs. Ostrander was pinned beneath it and when rescued was hurried to the City Hospital, where it was found she had a fractured skull and probable internal injuries. The others were not badly hurt. The accident caused much excitement along the boardwalk.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, July 14.—Rube Marquard and Rube Benton, the two star southpaws hooked up in the second game of the series between the Giants and the Cincinnati Reds this afternoon before a good sized crowd of 3,000. Shaffer was given a day's rest and Herzog worked at third.

FIRST INNING—Devore started off by hanging a clean three-bagger to right center. Murray got Bescher's long fly. Devore took no chances with Murray's arm and stuck to third. On the squeeze play, Marsans bunted and Devore scored easily. Marsans reaching first before Marquard could get the ball to Merkle. Marsans was caught napping off first. Marquard to Merkle to Fletcher. Dodge flied out to Burns. One Run. None Left. Burns got a base on balls. Herzog flied out to Bescher. Fletcher was out on an easy splash to the box. Benton to Hoblitzell. Burns taking second. Doye lined out to Devore in deep center. No Runs. No Errors. SECOND INNING—Hoblitzell grounded out to Merkle unassisted. Fletcher threw out Tinker. Groh also went out on a grounder to Merkle unassisted. No Runs. None Left. Merkle got a base on balls. On the hit and run play Murray shifted to left, sending Merkle to third. Meyers hit the right field wall for a single.

"1,000 PER CENT." NETS $500,000 TO QUICK RICH FIRM

Wall Street Promoters of Candy Making Secrets Indicted on Fraud Charges.

PROFITS FROM START.

"Hard Earned Savings" of Head of Concern Used as Example to Investors.

The Grand Jury to-day handed down to Judge Ray, in the United States District Court, an indictment charging Nova Adolphus Brown, Harold Lewis Davis and Floyd N. Franklin, doing business at No. 1 Wall street as N. A. Brown & Company, Incorporated, with defrauding persons by mail in selling stock of Franklin's, Incorporated, a New Jersey corporation. The defendants were represented by Abel I. Smith. They pleaded not guilty and were released on $5,000 bail each by Commissioner Whelan. According to the indictment, N. A. Brown and Company, Incorporated for $25,000, represented that it was the selling agent for the common stock of Franklin's, Inc., which had issued 6,000 shares of common stock at $10 per share.

Letters were sent to R. C. Foster of Hartford, Conn.; J. C. Ayres of Hartford, N. J.; Charles W. Oviatt of Bridgeport, Conn., and many others, to whom the firm offered to sell stock at $8 per share, under a pretense of organizing a company under the laws of New Jersey which would acquire from Floyd N. Franklin and Felix Dexter formulas for the manufacture of candy and certain other property. The letters sent to prospective purchasers represented that Nova Adolphus Brown had invested in the stock a "big" sum of his own hard earned "real money" and by offering to sell the stock at $8 a share was affording "an opportunity just as rich in its money making possibilities, without having to wait years and years for dividends, as any of the big candy-makers in the country."

The letter held out the prospect of a 50-cent profit on every dollar of business and declared that within five years Franklin's, Inc., would be paying yearly dividends of 1,000 per cent. Assistant United States District-Attorney Boyle said that the indicted men, by means of their fraudulent pretenses and representations, had been able to sell half a million dollars' worth of stock. The indicted men had a contract with the Federal Advisory Bureau of No. 16 Nassau street, of which Elmer L. Kincaid, a former Post-Office Inspector, is president; Thomas M. Edly, also a former Post-Office Inspector, secretary; Abel I. Smith, former United States Assistant District-Attorney, general counsel, and Arthur M. King, also a former United States Assistant District-Attorney, associate counsel.

The contract with this concern has the following stipulations: "It is understood and agreed that the membership for service entitles the holder of a membership in the Federal Advisory Bureau to revision of advertisements and mail literature, together with any opinions of the association regarding the literature and advertisements, and any mail plan, or to the preparation of answers in any formal Post-Office Department inquiry with any representative of the Federal Advisory Association at any time to suit the pleasure of a member during the term of membership." Franklin was formerly employed by Huyler, the candy manufacturer, as a salesman.

Child Dies From Poisoning. Dorothy E. Smith, two years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of No. 6 Brooklyn avenue, Jamaica, died in St. Mary's Hospital to-day. The child's mother was cleaning a straw hat this morning and she left the live and oxalic acid on a table. His wife underwent an operation last week and was in bed in another room. While the father was absent the little girl climbed up on a chair and got hold of the bottle containing the poison and drank the contents.

BOY JEWEL THIEF BURIED $2,800 LOOT IN CENTRAL PARK

Detectives Find Cache at Exact Point to the Inch From Beck's Directions.

$100,000 IN ALL STOLEN.

Youth Finally Tells Where He Hid Nine Diamond Rings Missing From Bag.

Lieuts. Jones and Quinn and Detective Wood of the Police Department went to One Hundred and Tenth street and Central Park West to-day, counted eighteen blocks running south in the stone wall, climbed the wall and, at a point 18 inches to the eastward, began to dig under a clump of bushes. Soon they unearthed an old pocketbook containing nine diamond rings and a pair of diamond cuff buttons, valued at $2,800. This does not mean there is a diamond mine in Central Park. The detectives who dug up the gems had been guided to the spot by directions furnished by Willie Beck, the youth who stole nearly $100,000 from his employers, Udall & Ballou, jewelers, at No. 574 Fifth avenue, last month. When the Central Office detectives traced the travelling bag used Beck in the removal of the loot to the parcel room of the Pennsylvania station they discovered that jewels valued at $2,900 were missing.

Beck persistently refused to admit that he had taken anything from the bag. Detectives questioned him in vain until this afternoon, when they told him that the Judge would undoubtedly consider his refusal to tell about the missing property when he is brought up for sentence—he having pleaded guilty. Finally Beck confessed that he had taken some of the stolen property and hid it. He gave the explicit directions by which the detectives dug up the missing articles in the park. Beck had apparently buried the rings and cuff buttons in the hope of digging them up after serving his term in prison.

MRS. PANKHURST CHASED BY POLICE IN LONDON STREETS

Escapes When Meeting Is Broken Up, but Later Caught After Wild Taxi Ride.

LONDON, July 14.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and Miss Annie Kenney, two of the militant Suffragette leaders, defied the government and the courts of law this morning by appearing at the weekly meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union. Miss Kenney was arrested during an uproar caused by a clash between the police and sympathizers with the suffragettes. Mrs. Pankhurst, however, managed to evade the officers and escaped. She was captured later in a taxi cab and taken to a police station. She was released after a wild ride through the crowded streets, but the fugitive militant leader was at length run down and taken to jail.

Mrs. Pankhurst had been received with an ovation by the meeting. She leaned heavily on a table as she addressed a few fervent sentences to the audience. She said: "I am a rebel as Sir Edward Carson is. Both of us are rebels because there is no other way open to us to redress our grievances. I would sooner be a rebel than a slave. I would rather die than submit. I mean to be a voter in the land of my birth or die. My challenge to the Government is, 'Give me freedom of all men.'"

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—The improved Yankees wound up their stay in St. Louis this afternoon when they played the third and final game of the series with the Browns. The count up to this game was 1 to 1. Incidentally the Browns are the lone team in the American League over which the Yankees have an advantage. They have played nine games this year, and of these the Yankees have won five. The other four have gone to the St. Louisans.

The rejuvenated Jack Knight at first has performed right per cent at the initial corner, while Peckinpaugh, the ex-Wash, showing here for the first time, fills a big gap at short. Manager Stoval of the Browns to-day said he would protest the 3 to 2 victory of Yankees in Sunday's game. He bases his protest on the fact that the umpires, Dineen and Egan, waved Brief back to first base after he had stolen that bag in the third inning. Brief started to steal as Pitcher Ford wound up to pitch to Pratt, but dropped the ball instead, according to the umpires. A ruling by President Johnson of the American League requires that the runners be sent back to their bases when by an accident the pitcher drops the ball before pitching. Stoval claims that Ford's dropping of the ball was nothing more than a balk, and for that reason Brief should have been permitted to take second base. As a single by Jack Johnston followed later in the inning, it is assumed that Brief would have scored with the winning run.

FIRST INNING—Pratt and Brief got Daniels. Wolter popped to Pratt. Cree singled to right. Baumgardner turned Hartzell's grounder to Pratt, who threw him out at first. No Runs. One Left. Shotton grounded to Knight. Brief lounded a single off Knight's glove. Pratt singled to center, putting Brief on third. Williams doubled to right, scoring Brief and putting Pratt on third. Johnston lined a sacrifice fly to Daniels, scoring Pratt. Williams going to third on Daniels's left throw. Wallace singled to left, scoring Williams. Warhop was taken out of the box and Schulz pitched. Lavan forced Wallace, Peckinpaugh to Hartzell. Three Runs. One Left. SECOND INNING—Pratt tossed out

WILSON CONFIDENT THERE'LL BE NO STRIKE AS CONFERENCE OPENS

Announcement Made Just Before It Begins at White House That Railroads Will Arbitrate if Newlands Bill Becomes a Law.

SENATE HAS ALREADY PASSED THIS MEASURE

Conference Committee in New York Issues a Formal Statement That Forecasts a Satisfactory Settlement.

By Samuel M. Williams. (Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—That industrial peace will follow the important conference held this afternoon in the White House, is the prediction of those who attended, following the announcement from New York that the Eastern railroads would arbitrate with their 100,000 trainmen and conductors, providing the Newlands bill, which they helped frame, is enacted into law.

The conference now in progress, attended by President Wilson, railroad heads and representatives of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was called to discuss this measure in the hope that a strike, which has already been voted for, might be averted.
